DESTINATION

Baden-Baden

It's hard to imagine a more serene spot than the beautiful Black Forest countryside or the historic park and arboretum of the Lichtentaler Allee otherwise known as Baden-Baden's „green Salon“. The town at the North end of the Black Forest has never been more beautiful or performed more splendidly. A striking ensemble of art and hospitality, culture and nature, with notable exhibitions, designer shopping, and a lot of distraction.

Since July 2021, Baden-Baden has added another feather to its cap: the coveted World Heritage title. This decision by the UNESCO World Heritage Committee recognises the special significance of European bathing culture and the immense value it has brought to humankind.

Along with Baden-Baden, ten other traditional spa resorts, known collectively as the Great Spa Towns of Europe, have successfully been appointed to the World Heritage list.
