

Castelfalfi

A scenic view of the Tuscan hills. The foreground shows a tiled roof with several chimneys. The middle ground is filled with rolling hills, some covered in green grass and others in golden-brown fields. Tall, slender cypress trees are scattered throughout the landscape. In the background, more hills and mountains are visible under a clear sky.

A place where moments linger longer, where limestones and cypress trees tell the history of Tuscan hospitality.

Greenery and History

The ancient village of Castelfalfi and the 1.100 hectares agricultural estate that surrounds it are located in the rural heart of Tuscany.

The estate dates back to 2.000 years ago: from Lombards to Etruscans, passing through Romans, Visigoths, Florentine aristocrats and Milanese merchants.

The untouched nature of the Tuscan countryside and the secular history that can be perceived in every corner of the estate contribute to making Castelfalfi a jewel of rare beauty.

Accommodations

Castelfalfi features 146 rooms including 20 suites and 4 signature suites. The style is elegant and sophisticated, always in harmony with the surrounding landscape.
