Meeting + Event

Your conference room could look like

- The legally required distance between participants is maintained in all conference rooms and restaurants, if this is not the case, mouth-nose protection must be worn
- New seating plans define the number of persons for meetings
- Each participant will receive a hygiene kit including disinfection wipes & hand gel, disinfected pen and a mouth & nose protector.
- Red Coat contact person on the subject of hygiene on every floor of the event. This contact person is also available to you contactless at any time via the Meeting Service App.
- Microphones are disinfected and provided with a name tag.
- Each speaker receives his disinfected microphone in a hygiene bag.
- Contactless "introduction" to the technology existing in the room (projector, screen and sound system).
- Thanks to excellent Internet connections, conferences can be streamed live.

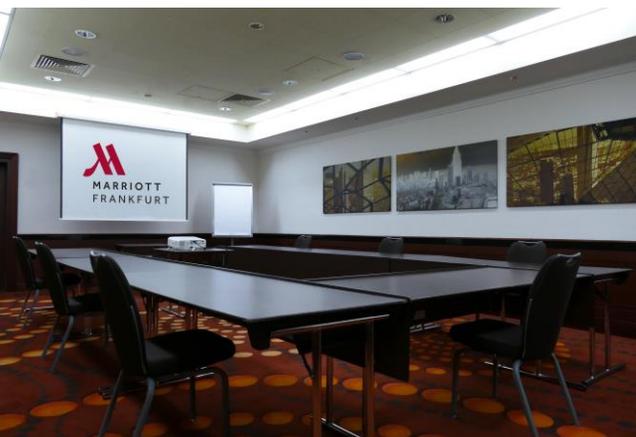

Hygiene in the event area

- Conference tables will be disinfected by our staff before the event begins and during the lunch break.
- In front of the conference rooms and in the common areas you will find easily accessible disinfectant dispensers.
- We will provide a cleaner for your event who will ensure the disinfection and cleaning of the event area.
- Disinfection wipes are also available during coffee breaks for individual cleaning when operating the coffee machines.

Food + Drinks

Your coffee break could look like this

- Our entire range of drinks and food is adapted to Covid-19 hygiene measures. On request we also serve in individual packaging.
- Whether buffet, menu or lunch box - we fulfil culinary wishes also for larger groups.
- We also offer a wide range of local and healthy products.
- Breakfast is served in our restaurant in compliance with the minimum distance.
- Coffee breaks are served directly for each participant personally on the conference tables.
- At lunchtime, our service staff can deliver the food in the form of a Bento Box directly to the conference table.
- Restaurant areas can be reserved exclusively for you and your group.
- Optionally we offer you to use our food truck and the terrace in front of the hotel for lunch. Here the participants can move around in the fresh air and keep their distance.

Small meetings on a big scale

- Even for small events, the legally required distance between participants is maintained in all conference rooms and restaurants, if this is not the case, mouth-nose protection must be worn
- All food and drinks are served in the meeting room.
