INK Hotel Amsterdam - MGallery Collection

INK Hotel Amsterdam - MGallery Collection is a luxury lifestyle hotel, located in the heart of the lively city of Amsterdam. The hotel has 149 rooms, 10 of which are luxurious suites, a fully equipped gym, an inner garden, a vibrant restaurant and cocktail bar and two private event spaces.

Back in the early 1900's, the Nieuwezijds Voorburgwal was the news street of Amsterdam. Newspaper offices and printing houses dotted the map around here. It was a bustling area where stories were being chased, written and printed. In fact, INK Hotel Amsterdam's own building used to be the home of the Roman Catholic newspaper 'De Tijd' (The Times) right up until 1974. Both the offices and the printing house were located right here in this spot. With a history like that, it is no surprise that we are all about time and telling stories. It is in our DNA.

Traces of our history can be found all over the hotel. The personalized suites contain original and antique objects, like typewriters and photo cameras. On the walls of the Library Lounge, you can find the original blueprints of 'De Tijd' originating from 1904. A special feature is our 'soft atlas' of Amsterdam which is featured on the walls of our rooms. These chalk-like drawings are designed by Jan Rothuizen and tell the story of Amsterdam in a funny and recognizable way.

From intimate dinners, to cocktail parties and product launches, INK Hotel Amsterdam can accommodate your guests.
