ONE WHITEHALL PLACE

Home to many of the political and literary greats of 19th and 20th century British society, there are few venues in London as prestigious as One Whitehall Place.

Arranged over two of the four spectacular floors, its magnificent rooms are reached by an awe-inspiring, circular, self standing marble staircase, the largest of its kind in Europe.

One Whitehall Place is within easy reach of all the key business centres, tourist attractions, cultural landmarks and transport links.

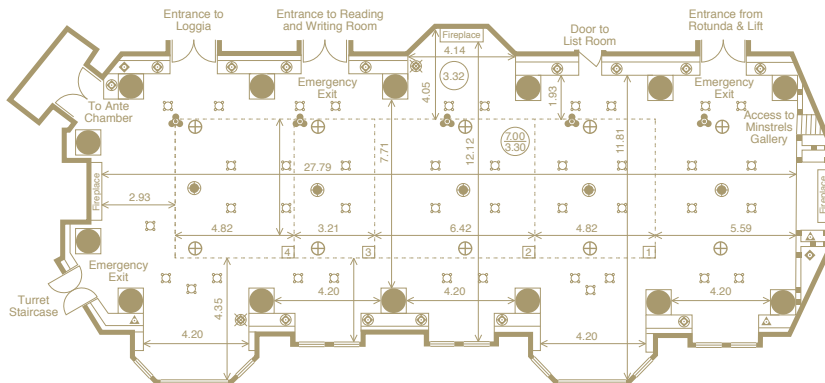

THE GLADSTONE LIBRARY

Our largest function room – the Gladstone Library – features a wealth of architectural detail.

The essence of the original library remains intact, through faithful replicas of the 30,000 volumes that surround the room. The high ceilings, magnificent faience tiled columns and windows flooded with natural light enhance the impressive Victorian grandeur, setting the perfect scene for any type of event.

THE CELLAR

The Cellar is steeped in history. During both World Wars, One Whitehall Place was used by the Intelligence Service as its headquarters. According to local legend, an underground passage once ran from The Cellar under Horse Guards Avenue to the Ministry of Defence, and Whitehall. A dynamic and diverse space, it is perfect for intimate private parties, supper clubs, product launches and small bespoke events.
