"Alicante, the land of eternal spring"

Alicante, a tourist enclave on the Med, a university and congress city. The city is the capital of a highly dynamic commercial and industrial province that is part of the Region of Valencia.

Its hotel offer - which consists of 7,150 beds, its wealth of culture, its privileged setting on the Mediterranean coast and its renowned food and drink, rich in traditional dishes, have all made it the meeting place for multiple cultures.

It has been blessed with a climate that can be enjoyed all year round, excellent beaches and modern infrastructures, all of which help make Alicante the perfect place to organise all kinds of events, congresses and professional meetings.

0° 30' W longitude

38° 20' N latitude

3000 hours of sunshine a year

It is a city open to the sea and where its mild climate allows to enjoy its streets throughout the year.

Alicante

A wide-angle shot of a modern hotel lobby. The floor is made of large, light-colored tiles with dark borders. The ceiling is white with recessed lighting. Several tall, light-colored wooden pillars are spaced throughout the room. In the center, there is a glass table with a metal base, holding a large arrangement of pink and white flowers. To the right, there is a long, curved reception desk with a white and gold marble top. Behind the desk, there are several computer monitors and a sign that says "VELIA". To the left, there is a seating area with wooden tables and chairs. In the background, there is a glass door with the word "PASSAGE" above it. The overall atmosphere is bright and modern.
