A TRIP TO THE PAST OF LISBON

This unique building presents a valuable cultural heritage which dates back several centuries.

With the goal of sharing and preserving an important part of Portuguese history, the Aurea Museum 5* invites you to discover its archaeological exhibition, a unique space that will guide you through the different eras that define the city's identity today. The walls of the hotel, which today have been restored, tell us that at one time they welcomed the palaces of distinguished families closely related to the court. The same walls witnessed the Roman occupation, the Islamic invasions and the beginning of voyages searching for a new world. To stay at the Aurea Museum 5* is to connect with the legacy of material culture that it passes on to all who visit it.

THE MUSEUM HOTEL

The exhibition of the Aurea Museum 5* offers you the opportunity to observe the daily life of all the Lisbon inhabitants and cultures over the centuries. The exhibition revolves around a tour through houses, walls and public spaces that are preserved, thus keeping the rich cultural heritage of Lisbon.

A living proof materializes in a collection of objects and structures dating from the 2nd century AD and that go through the historical evolution of Lisbon. The different people that contributed to the construction of the current city left an indelible imprint on the city that today the Aurea Museum 5* returns to us.

The hotel offers its guests a free mini-tour from Monday until Saturday, through the archaeological remains.

SIGNATURE PLACES

Aurea Hotels is a boutique brand that goes beyond material luxury. It offers an authentic and experiential proposal with the aim of connecting the guest with the cultural richness of the place and the uniqueness of each hotel.

Its differential value lies in the connection between the establishment and the destination through a setting based on its architectural proposal, its historical legacy or the environment itself.

A new type of establishment that, in addition to aesthetic sensitivity and comfort, aims to enable the traveler's emotional connection with the destination. The purpose of Aurea Hotels is to inspire the guest through unique experiences, born from a holistic and personalized concept. Each destination must enrich the soul of the traveler and generate a memory difficult to forget.
